These pictures of Marguerite Watson, and Prince Charles, Philippe d'Orleans, Duc de Nemours, who is of French royal blood, were taken as they applied for a marriage license in London. The match has created a big stir in European society.

under the microscope. It has been determined that it is small enough to pass through the pores of filters that are able to filter out bacteria. A consideration of the investigations of this condition made by Prof. Charles E. Simon caused him to believe that the virus may be constantly present on the human skin or in the human body, and that it is only under special conditions that it reacts to produce the types of blisters that are so familiar. Attempts have been made to find the relationship between this condition and chicken pox, also between this condition and epidemic encephalitis, inflammation of the brain. The proof is not yet convincing of such relationships. There is evidence that there are instances in which germs may live upon the human body and not cause disease until all of the circumstances are favorable. The person who has the germs is capable of transferring them to other people.

INQUEST ON MAN'S DEATH

moned the police patrol and Driver Maurice Wilkinson and Constable Fred Littlefield assisted Constable Bishop in removing Mr. Chamberlain to the Jones Block. Dr. Sinclair was notified and hurried to the scene, where Constable Bishop with the aid of a nurse and militiaman who were present, rendered first aid under the direction of the doctor.

Mr. Chamberlain's right femur was crushed and the femoral artery, the largest in the body, severed. A tourniquet was applied to the injured leg before he was taken to the hospital. Efforts to stay the flow of blood failed and it was found necessary to amputate it. A considerable amount of serum was injected to take the place of the lost blood during the operation, but the terrible injuries, including damage internally and to the abdomen were too much for the elderly motor-man and he passed away at 10:45 o'clock.

The late Mr. Chamberlain was a man of sixty-seven years of age and very popular among his fellow employees. He had been employed on the street cars since 1910.

The victim of the accident was born in London, England, and had been a resident of this city for the last twenty-one years. He was a member of the Alexandra Lodge, Sons of England, and a member of the Carman's Union. He leaves to mourn his loss, one daughter in this city, Mrs. H. J. Callow; two sisters, Mrs. Emily White of Hamilton, Ontario; and Mrs. Edith Wainman of Toronto, Ontario, and one brother, Charles H. of Victoria. The remains are being kept at the B.C. Funeral Chapel and funeral arrangements will be announced later.

MAJOR BURDE MAY RETIRE

want to rush anything which will be against the interests of my party or my district. I cannot tell what move the party will make, and I may be forced into the contest at the last minute to render some sort of service."

LONG SERVICE

Major Burde was first elected in January, 1919, at the by-election which followed the death of R. P. Wallis. He was returned by acclamation at the election of 1924. His service in the Legislature has been of almost ten years' duration.

Major Burde saw war service with the Canadian in France. "I think it was largely the war and the excitement of the front line which took me into politics. When some of us got back, the humdrum existence of everyday business life palled a little. We wanted action, a fight, a section, excitement. Politics promised all that and something more besides. There was an opportunity there still to serve one's country, and a particular portion of it had the interest of by district at heart when I went to the Legislature in 1919. I have fought for the district, and I think I may be so bold as to say that I have won the confidence of the people here. At least I have tried."

MAYOR HANNA NAMED LIBERAL CANDIDATE IN ALBERNI RIDING

pointed out that the Government steadfastly refused to interfere in any way in selection by constituencies of their candidates.

Discussing road conditions, Dr. Sutherland said money for improvement of the Parksville-Alberni main road had been appropriated and work will be pushed to speedy conclusion. The road must be widened and the grade lessened. Extension of the highway to Tofino would be expensive, said Dr. Sutherland, but he had taken up with the Dominion Government creation of a national park at Long Beach, and expected that a substantial Federal grant would be forthcoming to give access to the wonderful stretch of sandy beaches.

Dr. Sutherland dealt with the provincial road system and pointed out that motorists had been pledged that gas and motor taxes would be returned in better highway, which in turn save the motoring public huge sums in car operation. Applications now filed for road tax totalled $22,000,000, although only $4,000,000 was available. Counting charges that the Liberals had raised taxes on farmers, Dr. Sutherland gave data on Alberni properties showing great reductions. The advance on total taxes collected was due to the great increase in the number of farmers in British Columbia. "Taxes are coming down, I cannot find any farmers complaining," he said.

The natural resources of the Province were providing great and increasing revenues being a factor in population increase. In lowering the levy on each taxpayer.

Dr. Sutherland contrasted this condition with the days when the Tory administration was rejected by a people, when the Province only obtained eighty per cent of the loans issued, and the bankers shut down on advances until the Province increased its credit. He pointed out that major factors inducing capital to this Province were stable conditions created by Liberal policies, with happy labor conditions balanced against good opportunities of profit to capital. He pointed out the record influx of over $20,000,000 of investment funds into the mining industry as an example.

"Just what time the election will be, I cannot tell you, as I do not know, but speaking personally, I would say the sooner the better," said Dr. Sutherland, congratulating the Liberal Party on the high type of candidate nominated.

The advances being made in social legislation were touched upon, Dr. Sutherland citing old age pensions which he declared to be as generous at this time as the Dominion Government would countenance. The Government had hopes that further benefits would be extended and he pointed out that if labor voters failed to support the Government, Eastern provinces would construe that action as rejection of pensions and justifying continued refusal to adopt similar measures for the aged.

MAJOR BURDE TO RETIRE

Major R. J. Burde was called upon to speak. He congratulated the convention upon selection of Mr. Hanna. He had no definite statement to make at this time, but had desired for some time to retire from political activities to give time to expand his newspaper to keep pace with the development of Alberni district.

L. Arnold Hanna is a barrister of Port Alberni, trained in Victoria. He has been a resident of the district for twenty years. When a young man he worked in sawmills of the district. He is serving his third consecutive term as mayor of Alberni.

CHINESE END FIGHT WHILE JAPAN MOVES

The Japanese consulate at Shanghai announced the Nationalists had refused to comply with a Japanese ultimatum. In all save a formal declaration of war, Japan, therefore, was at actual hostilities with Nationalist China.

FOUR DEMANDS

The Japanese demands included, first, withdrawal of the Nationalist troops to a distance of seven miles on each side of the railway between Tientsin and Tainan; second, punishment of commanders of the troops responsible for recent "murders" of Japanese at Tainan; third, disarmament of the Southern troops who had been guilty of excesses at Tainan; and fourth, cessation of demonstrations against Japanese as well as of all hostile preparations.

REJECTED BY CHIANG

These were presented at 4 p.m. Monday with a twelve-hour ultimatum. Five minutes before the ultimatum expired an unidentified Chinese, who was without credentials and claimed to represent the Chinese chairman of the Political and Military Affairs Committee of Tainan, appeared at the Japanese lines, but General Fukuda, Japanese commander, refused to receive him. This individual stated he brought verbal word that General Chiang Kai-shek, Nationalist commander-in-chief, had rejected all the terms.

The Japanese outposts were doubled. The Japanese stated the Chinese opened fire promptly at the hour the ultimatum expired.

The Chinese used heavy artillery and the Japanese replied with small field pieces.

A general engagement ensued, the Japanese blowing up an ammunition dump, setting fire to the Japanese barracks and carrying on a fierce offensive. The Nationalists attacked in large numbers along the whole line of the railway.

DIVISION SENT

The Japanese Emperor to-day sanctioned the sending of the Kwang Division of 15,000 to 18,000 men to Tientsin on the advice of the Cabinet and the General Staff. This will bring the total Japanese forces in Shanghai Province to about 20,000 men.

WARSHIPS MOVE

Seven Japanese destroyers were en route to-day from the fleet base at Sasebo to Canton, Amoy and Foochow. Four others were expected to leave South China shortly as a precautionary measure.

A dispatch from Hongkong said the Japanese consul at Shanghai, the foreign quarter of Canton, had instructed all Japanese in the native city to go to Shanghai or board the Japanese gunboats there. This, presumably, was taken in fear of anti-Japanese disturbances in Canton, which has been quiet.

FOREIGNERS ESCAPE

Neutral foreigners arriving at Tientsin from Tainan were reluctant to

Excellent Testimony From A Coal Miner

Who Used Dodd's Kidney Pills With Very Beneficial Results

Mr. B. Pearson Suffered with Sore Back and Found Relief in Dodd's Kidney Pills

Beersville, N.B., May 8 (Special).—"I am glad there is such a medicine in pill form as Dodd's Kidney Pills," writes Mr. B. Pearson, who lives at this place. "I am a coal miner and but for Dodd's Kidney Pills I would not be able to do my work. When I get a sore back I take two or three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and feel like a new man. I am glad to recommend them to anyone suffering from kidney trouble."

Kidney trouble is very common amongst all classes of people and usually a lot of valuable time is lost by using unsuitable remedies. A good plan is to watch the kidneys and keep them healthy. If they are kept strong and well, all the impurities are strained out of the blood. But, if they are weak and out of order, the impurities stay in the blood and disease is sure to follow. Don't delay, let Dodd's Kidney Pills keep you fit. (Adv.)

TITLE DOES NOT BRING MUCH MONEY

Young Fiance Balks on Wedding Day and Baron Won't Wed Widow

New York, May 9.—Baron Giorgio Mario Suriani, of Italy, who obtained a license to marry Miss Winifred Barry, twenty-one-year-old actress, was left waiting at the church to-day. "No, I certainly will not marry him," said Miss Barry, as she remained away from the little church, around the corner where the ceremony was to have taken place.

"Not only did I not know that he had advertised his title for sale at $100,000, but I learned this morning after I got over the shock of seeing about him in the newspapers, that he had been engaged to another woman for the last year."

"Well, she can have him," the actress continued. "I don't want him. Anybody can have him."

The baron's year ago offered his title for sale in marriage but he said he found no satisfactory takers.

"I'm not willing to take a chance with one of these rich widows," he said. "For these old women live forever. New York is getting very close to titles it is not like it was once. A title is not the investment it once was in America."

Fine Dance Hall And Tearooms At Langford Lakeside

An interesting addition to the list of entertainment resorts within an easy motor run from Victoria is that of Langford-Lakeside, which has recently been opened by Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Bennett, newcomers to the district, De-lightfully situated on Langford Lake, immediately adjacent to the Island Highway, Langford-Lakeside will be found a most attractive rendezvous for those desirous of bathing, fishing, dancing or having tea amid charming surroundings.

The dance hall, built by the former proprietors some years ago, has been more than doubled in size, its length being 105 feet with a splendid new floor, and Orland's orchestra, night engaged to play each Saturday night. Commencing in June, the orchestra will also play on Wednesday evenings. The dance hall, overlooking the lake, has been finished with sliding windows, so that it may be thrown open to the air, while a spacious veranda overlooking the lake will be a popular sitting-out place during dances as well as an out place during open-air tea-room. In addition to the orchestra arrangements, a fine Orthophonic has been installed, so that smaller parties of visitors may, at any time, dance to its strains. Electric lighting has also been installed throughout the place.

ROYAL COURT OF GREAT SPLENDOR

About 700 Presentations Made at Buckingham Palace. Last Night

London, May 9.—The first of a series of five courts was held in Buckingham Palace last night and lacked nothing in the regal splendor which is always associated with these functions. In accordance with customs of long standing, the diplomatic corps, the representatives of overseas Dominions and foreign countries were especially invited to the first court of the season. About 700 presentations were made in the throne room.

The debutantes had a day of long ordeal, first waiting to be photographed in their court gowns at fashionable photographers, and then running the gauntlet of thousands of admiring eyes of the populace while waiting in a queue in the Mall for the palace doors to open. The royal circle, assembled in the throne room, included besides the King and Queen the Prince of Wales, Princess Mary, the Duke and Duchess of York and Prince George. The room was ablaze with lights playing over the beautiful flowers plentifully displayed, while the uniforms, jewels and gowns fully maintained the brilliance of the courts of former years.

The Queen wore a dress of cream and gold lace, hand embroidered in cut crystal and diamante, with a train of Irish point lace, lined with gold chiffon tissue with a design of gold leaf. She wore a diamond crown with the lesser star of Africa and her diamond ornaments included the famous Koh-i-Noor. The Duchess of York wore a white fleur-de-lis gown embroidered with diamante and embroidered satin train.

The King appeared in the uniform of a field marshal, while the uniform of the Prince of Wales was that of a colonel in the Welsh Guards.

PAY HOMAGE TO FLOWER SELLER

London Tribute to Woman Who Sat Under Arch Forty-four Years

London, May 9.—A funeral cortege, heaped with beautiful flowers, stopped for two minutes outside Queen Anne's Mansions, St. James's Park, S.W., while the residents and business men in neighboring offices paid homage to a flower woman, who had for forty-four years sat under the arch of Queen Anne's Gate selling her blooms.

As Polly had lived among flowers, so she was buried among them. All her patrons and the flower women of London sent the most glorious blooms they could obtain.

There were so many of them that a load was sent to Harnwell Cemetery in advance of the cortege.

A business man, who had bought flowers from Polly for more than twenty years told a Daily Mail reporter something of her history. He said:

"In her early days she was a pretty woman, and she was always a good woman. Morning, noon and night Polly was under the arch, always smiling, always ready with a cheery word, missing, and as she had never complained of illness we wondered what could be wrong."

"But for a long time, as we learned afterwards, she had been suffering from cancer. She was taken to Westminster Hospital and remained there for nearly two years, several operations being performed on her. We took it in turns to go to see her and saw that every day she had fresh flowers at her bedside."

Then last November Polly came back to her familiar seat under the arch. Everybody congratulated her. She was still smiling, still cheery. About Christmas she disappeared again. Now she has died, and we have lost a great friend."

The funeral service was held in St. Stephen's Church, Rochester Row, where Polly was married.

The opportunity thus afforded for sketching under ideal conditions. The club will meet again on Tuesday at the Uplands, where the oak trees present a glorious picture at this season.

Mrs. Mills, 1112 Balmoral Road, entertained at the tea hour yesterday afternoon in honor of Mrs. W. F. Drinkie, who is leaving Victoria shortly for a four months' trip to England. A delightful time was spent by the invited guests, who included Mrs. W. F. Drinkie, Mrs. R. Burns, Mrs. H. Pearce, Mrs. H. Hockley, Mrs. W. B. Dempster, Mrs. T. B. Dempster and Miss Marjorie Pearce.

The members of the United Church Social Union were guests of Mrs. David Spencer Sr. of Moss Street, on Tuesday afternoon, May 8. The gathering was a large one, almost every member being present. The president, Rev. James Hood, in his introductory remarks, tendered the cordial thanks of the organization to Mrs. Spencer for the privilege of meeting in her home. Rev. J. G. G. Bompas gave an interesting address on China, chiefly as regards the evangelization of the villages. Rev. and Mrs. T. Keyworth sang a duet. Tea, coffee and ices were served by Miss Sara Spencer, Mrs. Grant and Mrs. W. G. Wilson; after which the guests gathered again in the drawing-room and hall, where Dr. Siprell expressed the congratulations of the guests to Mrs. Spencer in view of her approaching birthday on Thursday, and said what Mrs. Spencer and her home had meant to the Methodist Church in the past. Rev. C. M. Tate and J. P. Watson also bore testimony to the generosity of this home.

Knex W.M.S.—The Women's Missionary Society, Knox Presbyterian Church will hold their anniversary service at the Church on Thursday at 8 p.m. Miss Pelton will give an address.

YOUR BABY and MINE

Mr. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

COD LIVER OIL CAN BE STOPPED IN SUMMER

Mrs. F. N. G. writes:

"My fourteen-month-old baby weighs twenty-five pounds. She eats fruits, vegetables, cereal and milk. About a month ago she poisoned herself with tomatoes and now refuses to take cod liver oil. I have tried every way. Moreover, she will not sit on her nursery chair, which causes an endless amount of trouble. Your column has been of so much help to me."

ANSWER

I hope the column is going to be continually helpful to you. Now that summer is on the way, you can omit the cod liver oil and allow the baby to forget her aversion to it. The sunshine can replace the oil, unless the child has an active case of rickets (let your doctor advise about this), or barring the possibility of a sun bath in the nude every day, for at least fifteen minutes to half an hour.

It is a common habit of children to stiffen out and refuse to sit on nursery chairs, but this has to be overcome, they attach some unpleasantness to the sitting on the chair, either a spanking for soiling their clothes, or because they have been made to sit on the chair for long, tiring periods. If a suppository is used (and well oiled so that there is no chance of hurting the child when it is inserted) the duty is over and done with speedily. Playing while at toilet, or allowing the child to sit there for half an hour at a time, is futile. The child makes no effort to hurry matters and, more often than not, is unsuccessful. Wait until half an hour after breakfast, use the suppository and interest the child for the time being in a picture book or new toy to prevent opposition to sitting down? Had then give her a simple reward for success. She will then go to the chair, because everything connected with it is pleasant.

Mrs. C. S. W.

We offer through this department a leaflet on "Layette" for the new baby and also "Helps for the Prospective Mother." Instead of printing this for your benefit only, we will enclose a self-addressed and stamped envelope with your request? These will give you help in greater detail than would be possible in the paper.

Mrs. E. M. R.

Your letter about not tying the cord at birth was tremendously interesting. I am afraid it would take more courage than I possess to insist on such a drastic innovation. My idea of the fetal blood is very different, and I think most infections come from improper dressings done in an "unclean" manner, for the blood should be absorbed immediately.

Victoria W.I.—The May social meeting of the members of Victoria Women's Institute was held Friday afternoon at the institute rooms, 203 Union Building. Several vocal numbers given by Mrs. C. Brown were greatly enjoyed. The contest was won by Mrs. Booth and the luncheon set by Mrs. Harris. The hostesses were Mrs. F. Taylor, Mrs. Dodd, Mrs. Reid and Mrs. Harris.

St. Luke's W.A.—A tulip tea will be held at St. Luke's Parish Hall on Wednesday, May 16, at 3 o'clock. There will be a stall with aprons, etc., for sale and a musical programme will be provided.

The "CANARY" MURDER CASE

By S. S. VAN DINE
Author of "The Benson Murder Case"

"Well, that's three thousand I owe you," he said. His little eyes had now narrowed into slits, and he held his cigar clamped tightly between his teeth.

"Like to double it again—eh, what?" Vance asked. "Four thousand this time?"

Markham looked at Vance in amazement, and over Allen's face there came an expression of almost ludicrous consternation. Every one present, I believe, was astonished at the offer, for obviously Vance knew that he was giving Markham tremendous odds by permitting successive doubling.

In the end he was sure to lose. I believe Markham would have protested it at that moment. Markham had not snatched the cards from the table and begun to shuffle them.

"Four thousand it is!" he announced, putting down the deck and cutting. He turned up the queen of diamonds. "You can't beat that lady—positively not!" He was suddenly joyful.

"I fancy you're right," murmured Vance, and he cut a trey.

"Want more?" asked Mannix, with good-natured aggressiveness.

"That's enough," Vance seemed bored. "Far too exciting. I haven't your rugged constitution, don't you know."

He went to the desk and made out a check to Mannix for a thousand dollars. Then he turned to Markham and held out his hand.

"Had a jolly evening and all that sort of thing. And, don't forget, we lunch together to-morrow. One o'clock at the club, what?"

Markham hesitated. "If nothing interferes."

"But really, you know, it mustn't," insisted Vance. "You've no idea how eager you are to see me."

He was unusually silent and thoughtful during the ride home. Not an explanatory word could I get out of him. But when he bade me good night he said:

"There's a vital part of the puzzle still missing, and until it's found none of it has any meaning."

CHAPTER XLIX

(Tuesday, September 1, 1 p.m.)

Vance slept late the following morning and spent the hour or so before lunch checking a catalogue of ceramics which were to be auctioned next day at the Victoria Galleries. At one o'clock we entered the Stuyvesant Club and joined Markham in the grill.

"The lunch is on you, old thing," said Vance. "But I'll make it easy. All I want is a rather of English bacon, a cup of coffee and a croissant."

Markham gave him a mocking smile. "I don't wonder you're economizing after your bad luck of last night."

Vance's eyebrows went up. "I rather fancied my luck was most extraordinary."

"You held four of a kind twice, and lost both hands."

"But, you see," blantly confessed Vance, "I happened to know both times exactly what cards my opponent held."

Markham stared at him in amazement. "Quite so," Vance assured him. "I had arranged before the game, I've seen to have those particular hands dealt." He smiled benignly. "I can't tell you, old chap, how I admire your delicacy in not referring to my rather unique guest, Mr. Allen, whom I had the bad taste to introduce so unceremoniously to your party. I owe you an explanation and an apology."

"Mr. Allen is not what one would call a charming companion. He is deficient in the patrician elegances, and his display of jewelry was a bit vulgar—though I infinitely preferred his diamond studs to his pearl tie."

"But Mr. Allen has his points—decidedly he has his points. He ranks with Andy Blakely, Canfield, and Honest Kelly as an indoor soldier of fortune. In fact, our Mr. Allen is none other than Doc Wiley Allen, of fragment memory."

"Doc Allen! Not the notorious old crook who ran the Eldorado Club?"

"The same. And, incidentally, one of the cleverest card manipulators in a once lucrative but shady profession."

"You mean this fellow Allen stacked the cards last night?" Markham was indignant.

"Only for the two hands you mentioned. Allen, if you happen to remember, was the leader both times. I who purposely sat on his right, was careful to cut the cards in accordance with his instructions. And you really must admit that no stricture can possibly attach to my deception, inasmuch as the only beneficiaries of Allen's manipulations were Cleaver, Spotswoode. Although Allen did deal me four of a kind on each occasion, I lost heavily both times."

Markham regarded Vance for a moment in puzzled silence, and then laughed good naturedly.

"You appear to have been in a philanthropic mood last night. You practically gave Mannix a thousand dollars by permitting him to double the stake on each draw. A rather quixotic procedure, I should say."

"It all depends on one's point of view, don't you know. Despite my financial losses—which, by the bye, I have every intention of charging up to your office budget—the game was most successful. . . . Y' see, I attained the main object of my evening's entertainment."

"Oh, I remember!" said Markham vaguely, as if the matter, being of slight importance, had for the moment eluded his memory. "I believe you were going to ascertain who murdered the Odell girl."

"Amazing memory! . . . Yes, I let fall the hint that I might be able to clarify the situation to-day."

"And whom am I to arrest?"

Vance took a drink of coffee and slowly lit a cigarette.

"I'm quite convinced, you know, that you won't believe me," he returned, in an even, matter-of-fact voice. "But it was Spotswoode who killed the girl."

"You don't tell me!" Markham spoke with undisguised irony. "So it was Spotswoode! My dear Vance, you positively bowled me over. I would telephone Heath at once to polish up his handcuffs but, unfortunately, miracles—such as strangling persons from across town—are not recognized possibilities in this day and age."

"For an educated, civilized man, Markham, there's something downright primitive about the way you view a man's word."

"I know, you're exactly like an infant who really believes that the magician generates a rabbit in a silk hat, simply because he sees it done."

"Now you're becoming insulting."

"Rather!" Vance pleasantly agreed. "But something drastic must be done to disentangle you from the Lancelotti case. You're so deficient in imagination, old thing."

"I take it that you would have me close my eyes and picture Spotswoode sitting up there in the Stuyvesant Club and extending his arms to 71st Street. But I simply couldn't do it. I'm a commonplace chap. Such a vision would strike me as ludicrous; I would smack of a hashish dream."

"You yourself don't use Cannabis indica, do you?"

"Put that way, the idea does sound a bit supernatural. And yet, I am certain it is quite possible. I rather like that maxim, don't you know, for, in the present case, the impossible is true. Spotswoode's guilt—no doubt about it. And I'm going to cling tenaciously to that apparent hallucination."

"Moreover, I'm going to try to lure you into its toils, for your own—as we absurdly say—good name is at stake. As it happens, Markham, you are at this moment shielding the real murderer from publicity."

Vance had spoken with the easy assurance that precludes argument, and from the instant explanation of Markham's face I could see he was moved.

"Tell me," he said, "how you arrived at your fantastic belief in Spotswoode's guilt."

Vance crushed out his cigarette and folded his arms on the table.

"We begin with my quartette of possibilities—Mannix, Cleaver, Lindquist and Spotswoode. Realizing, as I did, that the crime was carefully planned with the sole object of murder, I knew that only some one hopelessly enmeshed in the lady's net could have done it. And no savior outside of my quartette could have been thus enmeshed, or we would have learned of him. Therefore, one of the four was guilty."

"Now, Lindquist was eliminated when we found out that he was bedridden in a hospital at the time of Skeel's murder; for obviously the same person committed both crimes."

"But," interrupted Markham, "Spotswoode had an equally good alibi for the night of the Canary's murder. Why eliminate one and not the other?"

"Sorry, but I can't agree with you. Being preoccupied at a known place surrounded by incorruptible and disinterested witnesses, both preceding and during the event, is one thing; but being actually on the ground, as Spotswoode was that fatal evening, within a few minutes of the time the lady was murdered, and then being alone in a taxicab for fifteen minutes or so following the event—that is another thing. No one, as far as we know, actually saw the lady alive after Spotswoode took his departure."

"But the proof of her having been alive and spoken to him is incontestable."

"Granted. I admit that a dead woman doesn't scream and call for help, and then converse with her murderer."

"See?" Markham spoke with sarcasm. "You think it was Skeel, disguising his voice."

"Lord no! What a priceless notion! Skeel didn't want anyone to know he was there. Why should he have staged such a masterpiece of idiocy? That certainly isn't his explanation. When we find the answer it will be reasonable and simple."

"That's encouraging," smiled Markham. "But proceed with your reasons for Spotswoode's guilt."

"Three of the quartette, then, were potential murderers," Vance resumed. "Accordingly, I requested an evening of social relaxation, and I might put them under the psychological microscope, as it were."

Uncle Wiggily and the Pretty Shells

"Unkie Wig! Unkie Wig! Where is 'oo?" called a little voice near the hollow stump bungalow one morning.

"Oh, Unkie Wig! Where is 'oo?" "Now what kind of baby talk is that?" asked Mr. Longears, as he began to twinkle his pink nose. "Scotter, are you talking like that?" For he thought it might be one of his forty-seven little bunnies.

"No, I isn't Tooter!" went on the blippling voice and from around the edge of the front stoop, on which the rabbit gentleman was standing, hopped Baby Bunty.

"Oh, I might have known who it was!" chuckled Mr. Longears. "Well, what do you want, Bunty?"

"Is 'oo dot any tandy?" asked Bunty. "Candy?" exclaimed Mr. Longears. "Where did you hear about candy?"

"No more of that baby talk, Bunty. You're getting too old for that! Besides, it makes my nose tickle," and he had to scratch it. "What about candy?" asked Mr. Longears.

"Bessie Littleall 'was telling me about how you drew puzzle pictures on the candy shop window to stop his toothache," went on Bunty. "And I thought maybe you bought some candy. Did 'oo? Has 'oo dot any tandy, Unkie Wig?"

"Oh, I don't mean that!" Baby Bunty was quick to say, talking again as a nice rabbit child should. "I won't do any more baby talk if you'll give me some candy and take me adventuring."

"I'll see about it," was all Mr. Longears would promise. "But here's a gumdrop for you to start with, if you haven't a hollow tooth."

"Dr. Bear dentist fixed all my teeth and he didn't hurt hardly any," said Bunty. "But was gumdrop one of the puzzle candies?" she asked.

"No," answered Mr. Longears. "The names of the candies which Sammie guessed from the puzzle pictures were peppermint, coconut and jelly beans."

"Oh, I love jelly beans!" cried Baby Bunty.

"Well, I haven't any now," Uncle Wiggily said, "but here's a chocolate drop, and now you may come along with me."

"Are you going to take me adventuring?" asked Bunty eagerly, as she jumped up and down for joy.

"I'll let you come with me as far as I can," said Bunty.

NEW AID FOR LAND SETTLERS

Ottawa, May 9.—Consideration by the Government of the representations made yesterday by a large delegation embracing the social, public and religious life of the Province of Quebec was promised by Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, when the claims of the delegates for treatment of native-born Canadians similar to that given to immigrants from elsewhere were put forward.

In brief, the delegates asked there should be a published railroad rate of one cent a mile for persons traveling to Western Canada to take up settlement on the land; that minors under seventeen years should be carried free, and that an educational campaign should be carried out in the United States and in the older parts of Canada showing the advantages of settling in the West and elsewhere.

Rev. Father G. M. Blouin was the spokesman and he was supported by Monsignor Joseph Halle, Bishop of Northern Ontario, Rev. Father Ouellette of Montreal and others.

Father Ouellette urged a Department of Colonization, similar to that of Immigration, be established.

Bishop Halle declared that even if the youth of Quebec were sent to the West, the province would not be depopulated.

HEARD BY MINISTERS
Mr. Lapointe, who received the delegation along with Hon. P. J. Veniot, Hon. Lucien Cannon, Hon. P. J. A. Cardin and Hon. Fernand Rinfret, declared he would submit the petition to his colleagues in the Government. It was a new departure, he said, for a country to transfer its own nationals from one part to another, and already he had heard fears, which he did not share, voiced by many public men in Quebec if this were undertaken.

Gain Freedom from Perspiration Odour from Bath to Bath

WHAT a simple, delightful way to avoid the unnecessary social error of perspiration odour . . . to refresh one's skin from top to toe regularly, in a bath with the cleansing, blandly antiseptic lather of Lifebuoy Soap.

Perspiration is natural . . . even healthful. Physicians say the average human body exudes from one to two pints of moisture daily in the form of perspiration.

But this moisture need not be offensive. Lifebuoy Soap in the bath opens the pores and cleanses and purifies them, keeps them sweet and breathing. Lifebuoy Soap gives you cleanliness that no other soap can give. . . . antiseptic cleanliness.

And this advantage costs you nothing extra because Lifebuoy Soap—a pure toilet soap for face, hands and bath—sells at a popular price.

You'll never know how truly delightful a bath can be until you try Lifebuoy.

You Perspire in both Winter and Summer

Perspiration is not caused by warm weather, exercise, or heavy clothing alone.

Joy, fear, or any emotion increases the flow of moisture through the pores of the skin. To keep well, drink lots of water, perspire freely and prevent perspiration odour by using Lifebuoy Soap.

Melhorn Low Man In British Open

"Wild Bill" Home In First Round of Championship Proper

Gene Sarazen One Stroke Behind, While Archie Compston, George Duncan and Walter Hagen Come Home With 75 Apiece; Wind-swept Course Bothers Players, Who Wear Sweaters and Leather Coats; Jurado Goes Out in 36, Playing Very Well

Sandwich, Eng., May 9.—"Wild Bill" Melhorn, of New York, took the lead among first finishers in to-day's round in the British open golf championship when he turned in a 71.

Gene Sarazen, of New York, putting superbly, turned in 72. Abe Mitchell, of England, was the first to finish, with a 78, as did the veteran, Harry Vardon. Thomas-Barber turned in a 77, Jack Hooker 85.

W. L. Hope, the first British amateur to finish, had 84. Johnny McHugh, the California amateur, who was paired with Hooker, had 79.

Bob Stupp, Chicago pro, went around in 82.

A bitter northeast wind swept the St. George's course and most of the golfers were bundled in sweaters and leather coats.

STILL PLAYING WELL
Joe Jurado, the little Argentine who led the qualifying field with 69 and 70, continued to play good golf to-day in the championship proper, going out in 36, one over par. His card showed a mixture of 2s and 5s, with only one 4 in the nine holes. His 36 included a birdie and two pars.

Archie Compston scored 75 to-day, the same count returned by Walter Hagen. In spite of the one-sided defeat at Moor Park, Compston and Hagen have fought on even terms throughout the open. In the qualifying round they each had 153.

George Duncan also played around in 75 to-day.

Tommy Armour turned in a card of 81.

With more than half of the field in, Melhorn continued to lead with 71, followed by Sarazen's 72, Compston, Duncan and Hagen were tied at the moment for third place with 75.

Sandwich, Eng., May 9.—Six North American professionals and two amateurs qualified yesterday for the British open golf championship but the honors of the day went to South America. Wee Jose Jurado, Buenos Ayres professional, compiled a sensational 69 on the Royal St. George course, to add to his 75 over Par of Monday and led the field home with 144 for the two days' qualifying play.

The players from the United States had no 69's in their bags but a major slip slipped quietly inside the select circle of 110 to continue the quest for the title. Scores of 162 were needed to get under the wire with the low hundred and ties. Larry Nabholz was the only United States pro to falter. The former Cleveland, who has been sick throughout the play, required 164 and was forced to join the gallery with Joshua Crane and Bill M. Newton.

Boston and New York amateurs, who ventured into the 90's for a round and found themselves on the outside looking in. Crane needed 164 and Newton 163.

TORRANCE BEAT AMATEUR
Jim Barnes and Gene Sarazen tied for low scoring honors among the representatives of the United States with 153 for the thirty-six holes. Walter Hagen had 161, and Robert Harris the field after the first day, 154. Tommy Armour, United States open champion, 156, and Bob Stupp, Chicago pro, 161.

Johnny McHugh, San Francisco, was the second amateur in the qualifying list with 157. T. A. Torrance, the Scotsman, leading with 153. Douglas Grant, native of the United States but now living in London, qualified with 160.

TAYLOR LOSES OUT
J. H. Taylor, who has won the open five times since 1894, tied once and finished second four times, failed to qualify, taking 163. Great Britain's most famous player, now fifty-seven years of age, has said for years that he would quit playing in championships if he were failed to qualify.

Dr. W. Tweedie, amateur champion of Great Britain, and Robert Harris, former amateur champion, also failed to make the grade. Roger Wethered, another former champion, slipped in with 159.

Alex. Herd, James Braid and Harry Vardon were safely in, Herd taking 157, Braid 154 and Vardon 159.

Archie Compston, conqueror of Hagen, finished in a tie with his victim at 153. Abe Mitchell was a stroke back at 154. Thomas Barber checked in with 154. George Gadd with 157 and Jean Gasciat with 159. Aubrey Boomer took 155 and Arnold Massey 153, the score returned by Len Holland. Arthur Havers needed 156 as did C. A. and E. R. Whitcombe. R. A. Whitcombe was three strokes under the others of the same name. Ted Ray scored 185.

JOLLEY SECOND
H. C. Jolley, scoring 147, Berthods 148 and George Duncan 150, followed Jurado to the wire.

The twenty-eight-year-old featherweight Argentine won the sensation of the second day's play. Jurado weighs only 125 pounds and stands but six inches over five feet in his golf shoes, but yesterday he banged some of his drives more than 300 yards over the wind-swept St. George's course. He played his iron with deadly accuracy and putted like Bobby Jones, taking only 34 for the first nine.

POWERFUL WRISTS
A famous master of the old world, Harry Vardon, paired with the youngest youngster from the new world, saw golf played as he played it in his heyday. Sandwich cheered Jurado as only this ancient golfing community can hail a new star and urged about to study the source of his tremendous skill. The gallery finally decided that the answer lies in his powerful wrists.

Jurado is making his second invasion of Great Britain. He has never been to the United States but plans to go back to South America by way of the United States.

McHugh, the California youngster, played good golf under difficulties to take second place among the amateurs. His 80 with 77 yesterday qualified him with ease but he had his troubles with the weather and an uninvited conversational companion.

Foley Even Bet To Beat Roy in Titular Battle
Montreal, May 9.—Wagering on the Kid Roy-Vic Foley bout here to-night for the Canadian featherweight championship is on an even money basis. The champion and the Vancouver boy declare themselves to be at the top of their form. Foley is optimistic that he will take the title, while Roy is equally confident that he will retain his crown. The fighters will scale under the featherweight limit. Roy is expected to weigh 125½ pounds, with Foley slightly under that weight.

This will be the first time this year that Roy has defended his title.

TEN-ROUND DRAW
Los Angeles, May 9.—Mike McGuire, warrior of many light-heavyweight ring battles, and "Cowboy" Jack Willis, youthful Texas slugger, fought to a draw in a ten-round bout here last night that was slow and uninteresting in all sessions but the last two.

All Athletes Don't Live On Their Names —By Laufer

In a day when capitalization of athletic talent can contribute so much to success in any profession, there are very few amateur athletes who have not been helped in their occupation by their athletic reputation.

The foremost of these pure sportsmen is Clarence De Mar, the best marathon runner in the United States. De Mar is a printer.

In the height of their glory, Matt McGrath and Pat McDonald, two Olympic heroes and the greatest weight men in the world, were New York coppers and they are still at it. Although they are Capt. McGrath and Lieut.

McDonald of "Traffic," they did not get their promotions during their athletic days.

Paddy Ryan, for years the greatest hammer thrower in the world, is an inspector for the gas company in New York. Johnny Hayes, the only American who ever won an Olympic marathon, is a customs man on the Jersey waterfront. Willie Ritola, one of the greatest middle distance runners in the world, is a carpenter in New York. Eric Liddell, of Scotland, winner of the 400-meter Olympic championship in 1924, is a missionary in China. Frank Hunter, second ranking American tennis player, is a big newspaper publisher, and Dr. George King, another great tennis star, is a dentist.

Varsity Play Well But Lose Canadian Title

Windsor Crowned King of Basketball World By Second Win Over Coast Team

Windsor, Ont., May 9.—Basketball supremacy came to Windsor last night when Windsor Collegiate Alumni carried off the senior title by defeating British Columbia University, 35-33, in the second game of a two-game series that went to the border men by 64-46 for the series.

U.B.C. made a great showing considering their long train trip and the fact that they had to play two games on successive nights.

The triumph was rendered even more attractive by the fact that the same Windsor team bowed to Winnipeg Trollers in the Canadian final in 1927 by a slim two-point margin, and this year they defeated the conquerors of the Trollers by an eighteen-point game to earn the Montreal Cup, emblem of the Dominion title.

EDWARDS COME BACK
Marvelous basketball on the part of Al Edwards, who swung from Monday night's disappointing display to a thirteen-point contribution last night, was the outstanding reason of victory for the Easterners in the second contest.

After running wild in the first half of the opening game of the series, Wally Mayers, British Columbia south-paw forward, bowed before the clever guarding tactics of Bill Butcher, Windsor captain, and Don King, guard, yet Mayers dubbed seven markers into the total to place him on an even footing with Tanny Butler, Western champion, as high scorer for the invaders.

Even, Henderson and Grant were the other scorers on the student quintette.

EVANDED FOURTH PENALTY
Personal foul eliminations played a prominent part in the game. Both Captain Butler and Henderson were ousted from the British Columbia lineup in the second half, and Frank Dowd, star Windsor forward, was banished from the border roster. Don King, who was assessed three personal fouls early in the game, showed remarkable cleverness in evading the crucial fourth penalty throughout the remainder of the game, though he played through to contribute three beautiful baskets.

Teams and scoring:
University of British Columbia—Mayers 7, Grant 2, McEwen 4, Butler 7, Henderson 3, Thompson, McDonald, Robinson, Total 33.

Windsor Alumni—Edwards 13, Dowd 6, W. Butcher 6, King 6, Dawson 4, Kenny, Murray, Butler, Total 35.

Referee—Perry Miller, Toronto; Webb Howman, London.

French Champion Stops Cuthbert
Paris, May 9.—Tiger Hummer, French featherweight champion, simply avenged his knockout by the British boxer Johnny Cuthbert, last September by stopping Cuthbert in the seventh round of a 12-round return match here last night. Cuthbert's seconds threw in the sponge after Cuthbert twice had been down for counts of eight and seven.

At Least Six Clubs Have Chance To Win Pennant In National

Chicago Cubs in Sixth Place, Only Game and Half From Leaders and Pittsburgh Climb Within Half Game of Giants, Who Are in First Place; Yankees Begin to Find Opposition Tough, Cleveland Beating Them; Philadelphia Move to Within Two Games of the Leaders

Thus far the first east-west series has served to bear out pre-season predictions that the National League race of 1928 would develop into a free-for-all battle involving six or more of the eight clubs.

The New York Giants and Brooklyn Robins went into the west with a firm hold on first and second places respectively, chiefly because of cutthroat competition among the western teams. To-day the Giants still were in first place, although sitting far from comfortably there, and the Robins had dropped to the fourth rung.

Chicago in sixth place was only a game and a half behind the league leaders.

All four eastern clubs were beaten yesterday.

GIANTS GO DOWN
The Giants invaded Forbes Field and dropped a 6-5 decision to the Pittsburgh Pirates. Burleigh Grimes chalked up his fourth victory in six starts.

Grimes was traded by John McGraw to Pittsburgh for Vic Aldridge because McGraw wanted a pitcher to win games for him at the start. The trade did not help McGraw because Aldridge has only recently reported after holding out and Grimes had already won four games.

Errors by Lindstrom, Giants' third baseman, helped the Pirates. Lindstrom's error on Grantham's sacrifice in the second paved the way for two of the three Pirate runs, and his fumble of Paul Waner's grounder in the next round was responsible for three more markers.

Cincinnati Reds took advantage of Ed Brandt's wildness to score 3-2 victory over the Boston Braves. Hugh Crichty had a busy day, making three hits, one a homer, and handling eight chances in the field perfectly.

The Cubs ran their winning streak to four games by turning back Brooklyn four to three. Percy Jones had the better of Jess Petty in a pitching duel. Johnny Butler led the Cub attack with three hits. He scored one run and drove another home.

CARDINALS SAVAGE
Six Philadelphia hurlers were subjected to a barrage of St. Louis hits and the Cardinals won 15-4. Hit's homer with one on in the fifth was the high spot of the Cardinals' batting attack.

In the American League, the New York Yankees suffered their second shutout of the year as George Uhle pitched the Cleveland Indians to a three-nothing victory. Uhle gave up four hits and completely silenced the bats of Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig. It was the fifth win for Uhle this season and incidentally it was the first defeat suffered by Hootie Penick.

The Athletics moved up to within two games of the leaders, noosing out the St. Louis Browns at Philadelphia, four to three. Cobb scored the winning run in the seventh on Hauser's sacrifice hit.

A four-hit pitching masterpiece by Ed Morris carried the Boston Red Sox past the Chicago White Sox 5-1 and out of the cellar.

The White Sox lost their seventh straight and dropped into last place. Marberry and Lisencbe were pounded for seventeen hits by the Detroit Tigers in Washington's overwhelming defeat at the Capital, 12-2. Bob Fothergill hit two triples, a double and a single, in five times up.

Yesterday's results were:

PITCHING AS RELIEF MAN HARDEST JOB

Famous Ed Walsh Would Rather Hurl Whole Game Than Go in Near Finish

Donie Bush Seems to Have Struck Jinx as Big League Boss; Cuyler Case Hurt Him

By BILLY EVANS

Is it wise to use a veteran star pitcher as relief man when some pitcher is faltering in the late innings?

Managers of major league clubs are about evenly divided on the question. There are some who argue it is wisdom to slip the opposition your best bet in an effort to hold a one or two-run lead late in the game.

Others use their pitching ace only as a last resort, where the winning of the game is of vital importance in keeping the club in the race.

I have never seen a greater starting or relief pitcher than Ed Walsh, of the old Chicago White Sox. Walsh, a glutton for work during his career, usually performed in about fifty games during a season, often five or ten more.

I once asked Walsh which he would rather do, start a ball game and finish it or be pressed into service, say three innings, to hold a one-run lead.

"There is nothing harder than relief work," he replied. "I have often worked three innings at top speed, where it was necessary to bear down on every ball pitched, and felt more tired at the finish than after working a regular nine-inning affair."

ALEX HAS SAME IDEA

One of the star pitchers, still in active service, who shares the opinion of Ed Walsh is none other than the great Grover Cleveland Alexander. In his prime, Alexander never demurred to act as pinch pitcher. However, the strain, sooner or later, takes its toll and Alexander feels that had he nursed himself along, instead of stepping into every breach that called for relief work, he would be a much better pitcher to-day.

"There comes a time in the career of every pitcher when doing relief work is out of the question," says Alex. "When a youngster, it doesn't appear to be at all difficult, but as a pitcher gets up in years, he finds he is not physically strong enough to so perform."

"Back in 1923 I decided that I was through as a pinch pitcher and since then have rarely appeared in such a role, and then only as a pennant-winning proposition."

"Since then have pitched consistently good ball."

Pyle's Panters Reach Last Control Point in Indiana; Gavuzzi Still Leads

Ligonier, Ind., May 9.—C. C. Pyle's caravan of calloused joggers out of here to-day toward Butler, Ind., forty miles east of here, and the last control point in Indiana.

Peter Gavuzzi of England, the leader, finished in a tie for thirteenth place with nine other runners, in yesterday's forty-one-mile lap from Miamawka, including Phil Granville of Hamilton, who holds fourth place. Gusto Umek of Italy won the day's trek in 5:59.04.

Gavuzzi's time for the 2,547 miles from Los Angeles is 41:31.42.

Andrew Payne, Claremore, Okla., is second about six hours behind Gavuzzi. John Salo of New Jersey is third in 47:51.28. Phil Granville's time for fourth place is 48:05.44.

The first Canadian to finish yesterday was John Cronick of Saskatoon, who is tenth with a time of 48:42.24.

George Libergall of Bellevue, Alta., has lapped time of 54:07.00, and S. Stevens, Calgary, 68:15.33.

AUSTRALIA ELIMINATED

Genoa, Italy, May 9.—Australia was eliminated from the 1928 Davis Cup competition in the first round, to-day by Italy when Baron De Morgurgo defeated Gerald Patterson, the veteran Australian star, 1-6, 6-1, 6-3, 7-5, 6-1.

This came as a hard blow to Australia, who have entered a team in the competition for the first time in three years. In the opening day's play the teams split even in the singles and Italy won the doubles yesterday.

Stanley Harris in winning two pen- nants for Washington in 1924-25 also proved there is no better way to keep a veteran pitching staff on edge than to relieve them of doing any pinch pitching duties.

Harris, with the giant and willing Fred Marberry in reserve, always called on him when any of his regulars faltered, thereby keeping his veteran staff on edge.

In 1926 George Uhle, in an effort to pitch Cleveland to a pennant, worked overtime as a regular and in relief-roles. He was able to win the surprisingly large total of twenty-seven games. Yet Uhle paid the penalty.

The greatest pitcher in the American League in 1926 could win only eight games last season, less than one-third his conquests of the previous year.

I am inclined to believe that a majority of the managers have been won over to the belief there is nothing quite so necessary to stabilize a pitching staff as a high-class relief twirler, able to go at top speed for two or three innings.

PITCHING AS RELIEF

Some sort of a jinx seems to be pursuing Donie Bush as a big league manager.

Last season he won a pennant for Pittsburgh in his first year as a National League pilot. It was a bitter struggle to the very finish. His tired out team was no match for the Yankees, losing four straight games.

Winning a pennant usually puts the successful manager on the top of the world. Not so Donie Bush, because in the interests of discipline he was forced to bench a popular favorite, "Rik" Cuyler, which took the edge off his victory.

When Bush first benched Cuyler he burned his bridges behind him. He must win the pennant to escape the wall of the angry mob. When he failed to use Cuyler in the world series, he again burned his bridges, and this time drew the fire of the fans because of the defeat of his team in four straight games.

The world series over, Bush instead of being in a blaze of glory, left more or less discredited. His fight in winning the pennant was lost sight of in the world series.

GOSSIP OVER TRADE

Regardless of who was wrong or right in the now much discussed Cuyler episode, I do know that Bush during his long years of service in the American League was always a square shooter.

It certainly required the courage of one's convictions to take the stand Bush did in benching Cuyler.

Once more Bush has invited criticism by trading Cuyler to the Chicago Cubs for Second Baseman Adams and Outfielder Scott. Adams is an established player, a very capable performer, while Scott's true worth is yet to be determined.

Since the closing of the deal I have been asked a great many times as to who got the better of the transaction. Baseball trades are more or less of a gamble, often later featuring a decided reversal of form.

Lloyd Waner last season proved he could acceptably fill Cuyler's position, while it was an admitted fact that the Pirates were weak at second. Regardless of Cuyler's ability, he was of no use to Pittsburgh. Therefore if Bush has pitched the weak hole in such a role, and then only as a pennant-winning proposition.

"Since then have pitched consistently good ball."

"The fact that at forty years of age

"There comes a time in the career of every pitcher when doing relief work is out of the question," says Alex. "When a youngster, it doesn't appear to be at all difficult, but as a pitcher gets up in years, he finds he is not physically strong enough to so perform."

"Back in 1923 I decided that I was through as a pinch pitcher and since then have rarely appeared in such a role, and then only as a pennant-winning proposition."

Bobby Jones On Golf

TEMPER IN GOLF

I always envy the man who can miss a short putt and laugh about it—the fellow who takes neither himself nor his game too seriously. Surely that is golf seen in its true perspective, as a sport and recreation rather than as an issue of the first importance to be tried and settled at the expense of pleasure and congeniality.

Mr. Eugene Black, governor of the Atlanta Federal Reserve Bank, once said to a group of golfers: "No man has mastered golf until he realizes that his good shots are accidents and his bad ones exercise. It would help most of us to enjoy the game if we would adopt that philosophy."

INAUGURATE SELF DENIAL WEEK HERE

Salvation Army Drive to Replenish Social Work Fund

Announcement is made by Brigadier Archie Layman, officer commanding the Salvation Army in Southern British Columbia, that the annual self-denial effort of the organization is being made during the first two weeks in May. This yearly financial drive is made for the purpose of replenishing the social work fund of the army. The widespread activities of the Salvation Army social scheme are well-known. Through the scheme thousands of men and women who have drunk to the dregs the bitter cup of misfortune are rescued from degradation, restored to self-respect and placed upon the path of decent citizenship.

"The Army Social Work," declared Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George recently, "does more to prevent crime than any other single factor in modern civilization."

Authorities everywhere have endorsed the work of the army in this connection. Some official observers going to the extent of declaring that if it were not for the army taking the initiative the work would have to be undertaken at infinitely greater expense by government departments.

Last year Southern British Columbia donated $16,220, to the maintenance fund, of which sum Greater Vancouver subscribed $6,400. This year the target, Brigadier Layman says, is placed at $18,000 for the division, of which Greater Vancouver's share is $7,000. Wide extensions of the work in British Columbia and elsewhere necessitate increase in the request this year, he explained. This is a work eminently worthy of support and it is hoped that the residents of Victoria will do their share toward maintaining it.

RHODESIA WILL BE PROSPEROUS

Development of Rich Resources Will Bring Development, Says Visitor

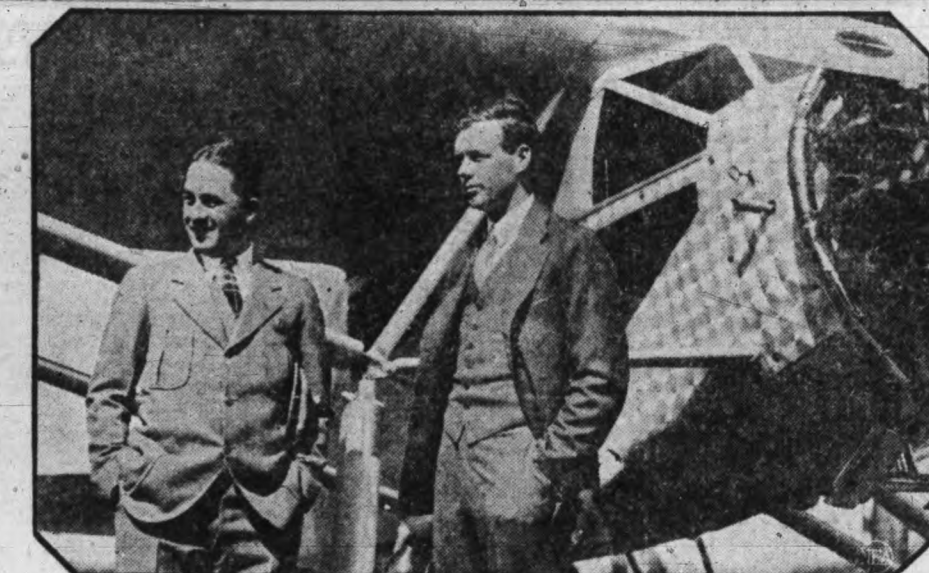

E. N. Carlton, Chief Secretary of the Rhodesian Government, which office is in importance to that of Governor in that for distant African territory, is a visitor to Victoria from Livingstone, the administrative centre of Northern Rhodesia, situated on the banks of the Zambezi River near Victoria Falls.

Northern Rhodesia is chiefly occupied in pastoral and mining activities, says Mr. Carlton. The mines in the adjacent Congo are also of importance, he says.

Tobacco will some day be a big crop of Northern Rhodesian farms, Mr. Carlton believes. Maize is still the chief crop, as in other parts of Africa, and attempts to grow cotton have not met with any great success because of the insect pests, he says.

Although development in this country has been slow, Mr. Carlton points out, there is great possibility in its mines and its farms.

It needs roads to open up the country, Mr. Carlton states. At present a Victoria engineer, Godwin Austin, is director of transport. Under him there has been progress of a very satisfactory nature.

LINDBERGH GETS HIS NEW AEROPLANE—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh has a new sky buggy now. The other day he "dropped in" at San Diego to try it out and found everything O.K. The plane is much like the Spirit of St. Louis, in which he spanned the Atlantic. Here Lindy is shown with the plane and B. F. Mahoney, its builder.

SCHOOL FEES REVISION URGED

City Council Asks School Board For Reconsideration of High School Charges

A request from the finance committee of the City Council for reconsideration of the charges made in respect to outside pupils at Victoria High School will go before the City School Board to-day at its regular meeting, called for 8 p.m.

The City Council, urged by Alderman William Marchant, to press for a revision of the charges made to other municipalities under this head, recently tabled the issue until the completion of its budget revision.

The subject is revived in a recommendation from the finance committee to the council, in connection with the reduction of the anticipated mill rate by one mill, to forty-one mills. The council will ask for a joint conference with the board on the question of school costs later in the year, it is understood.

Colwood

Colwood, May 8.—A very delightful evening was spent Saturday at the home of Miss Marion Kelly, "Nightingale," when the Optimists held their May meeting. The programme consisted of an amusing debate. "Resolved that the dress of to-day is more beneficial to health than the dress of the Victorian Era." Miss Marion Kelly and Miss Margaret Peatt took the negative side, both wearing very old-fashioned costumes. Misses Olive Walsh and Jean Murray were on the affirmative side and were successful in the debate. All present took part in the judging, votes being taken.

A letter of resignation was read from the president, Cedric Meyers, who has temporarily left the district. A vice-president, Miss Louise Mastich, was elected to fill the office until the end of the term.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, Miss Kelly.

Langford

Langford, May 9.—A general meeting of the Canadian Legion No. 91, Prince Edward Branch, and a general meeting of the members of the Women's Auxiliary, took place in their respective clubrooms on Monday night.

Mrs. A. G. Mackie, vice-president of the W.A., took the chair in the absence of the president, Mrs. Meredith Jones, at the women's meeting.

Report from the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. G. A. Cooney, told of the purchase of cutlery for the club.

The financial report from the recent Legion's dance at Langford Lakeside was considered very satisfactory. Arrangements were made for a card party to be held on Wednesday evening, May 16 at the clubrooms.

Tentative plans were made for the gala day, the Legion purposes to hold July 2 on the club grounds. Money was voted for the work.

A social half-hour concluded the business, at which refreshments were served to members of the meeting.

Dr. Irene Bastow Hudson, school doctor, will make her periodical inspection of the pupils in Langford. School on Wednesday next, accompanied by Miss H. G. Kelly, public health and school nurse. All parents are invited to be present.

Langford, May 8.—Under the auspices of the Canadian Legion, No. 91, Prince Edward Branch, a delightful dance was held Friday evening at Langford Lakeside, about 250 persons being present from Victoria and all the surrounding district.

Comrade A. G. Mackie was in charge of the door. Comrades A. Pennington and Ned Ashe were joint M.C.'s. Comrade A. E. Hall looked after the parking of the fifty-six cars. Large Japanese lanterns, electrically lit, were much admired in the dance hall, while fairy lights were effectively used about the grounds.

The new veranda was much appreciated and the view of the lake, with the moon on the water, was extremely beautiful. The women's auxiliary served refreshments, the members helping being Mesdames Mackie, Cooney, Forman, Meredith-Jones, Pennington, Smedley and Saltmarsh. Ozard's orchestra was so enjoyed that dancing was continued until 2 a.m. Mrs. E. W. Richards, of Atkins Road, with ticket 136, was the fortunate winner of the Rogers cash and cutlery, given as the tombola prize by the Canadian Legion.

Mrs. Jack Steven of Rose Bank, Langford Lake, entertained a number of girl friends on Saturday evening, all spending a delightful time. Miss Y. Willson managed a clever motor-car contest, the winner being Mrs. Christine Brotherton. Games and refreshments concluded the social evening.

The prize winners at the Spring Flower Show, held under the auspices of the Women's Institute, received their Bryant Challenge Cup. Many visitors from Sooke, Luxton and local fans were present. Teams: Sooke—J. Charters, R. Pontius, H. Welch, E. Gray, H. Helgesen and Earl Michelson (spare). Langford—G. and day afternoon, May 12, at Sooke, when P. Brotherton, George Duncan, Jack Wilkinson and Yong Quan. Referee, Cyril Wilkinson.

COMPARATIVELY few people realize the wide range and usefulness of Pyralin, reaching as it does into almost every industry. Few commodities offer such a happy combination of beauty and usefulness.

Pyralin is a real triumph of modern science. Its capacity to duplicate or improve upon the structural qualities and properties of natural materials is truly marvellous. It can be cut, carved, stamped, pressed, moulded to an extent far surpassing any of its natural competitors.

Today, men and women are enjoying in Pyralin all the qualities for which ivory, amber, tortoise shell and pearl have been famed through the centuries. Pyralin has the lustre, the durability and all their good features.

The Arlington Company of Canada brings this important industry to Canada. This Company is operating a most modern plant, equipped with the latest machinery, at Brownsburg, Quebec, where Pyralin articles are being turned out by Canadian workmen to meet an ever-increasing Canadian demand for things of use and beauty.

Preparedness Makes Good Garden

PRUNE AND SPRAY FLOWERS NOW TO PREVENT DISEASE

By ARTHUR N. PACK

President, American Nature Association

There is nothing like preparedness when it comes to a garden. This is the place where an ounce of prevention is worth several pounds of cure.

May is the time to prevent black spot and mildew on your roses. These diseases cannot be cured when they once start, but they can be prevented. Use a dust spray of nine parts dusting sulphur to one part arsenate of lead. Apply this early in the morning while the leaves are still damp with dew, and keep up the treatment every few weeks.

If you have a wild cherry tree on your place, you will find that, in spite of your efforts to destroy tent caterpillar eggs, it is probably host to squirmy hundreds. The only effective sure is to harden your heart and cut down the tree, as the wild cherry is the main dwelling place of these pests.

SCRAPE OFF GRUBS

Burning the old leaves of the iris to destroy the eggs of the borers is not effective. A moth which flies in May deposits its eggs on the foliage and a thorough search among the leaves and stems from May until July will reveal the grubs, which may be removed by a sharp knife.

An ordinary pruning knife is useful in separating dahlia roots. Plant the roots by the first of May, being sure not to plant them too deeply.

Weeds should be pulled up by the roots as soon as they appear, says Arthur N. Pack, shown here.

Four inches is usually sufficient for both dahlias and gladiolas. Deeper planting weakens the growth. Liquid manure is a splendid fertilizer. The easiest way to handle it at times before the manure will need to be replaced.

A small garden must be planned with a view to economy of space. Soak corn and squash seeds in water before planting to quicken germination, and place the squash among the rows of corn. Small garden bush beans can be planted two inches apart instead of the four inches usually prescribed.

If you have sufficient garden space, place the rows far enough apart to allow cultivation by a small hand cultivator. This saves a great deal of time and will give a head start on the weeds.

Hardy annual flowers should be planted now. Wood ashes kill insects and may be sprinkled on the ground around both the annuals and perennials.

Plant chrysanthemums now and they will bring beauty to the garden after the other flowers are killed by frost. As a cut flower it lasts a long time in the house.

Remove the runners from the old strawberry plants which are to produce berries so that the strength of the plant will be confined to supplying a good crop of fruit. Runners taken from strong plants may be potted and grown in their pots; then when the first crop of peas is finished, plant them out in rows a foot apart.

RADIO PROTESTS HEARD BY M.P.'S

Correspondence on Banning of Bible Students Tabled in Ottawa

Ottawa, May 9.—One hundred and nineteen typewritten pages of reasons why the radio broadcasting rights of the International Bible Students' Association should be suspended were tabled by Hon. P. J. A. Caudin, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, in the House of Commons yesterday and these show that protests against the programmes of this organization were received from nearly every province of the country. Three stations were operated by the International Bible Students' Association, which is characterized as an institution founded by the late Pastor Russell and active in propagating his ideas.

"Puerile bunk," "hogs of the air" and "nuisance" are some of the terms by which indignant radio fans named both the programmes and the operators of the stations.

HISTORY OUTLINED

The correspondence goes back to the organizers of the International Bible Students' Association, recalling that Judge Rutherford of Chicago, upon whom the mantle of Pastor Russell descended, was sentenced to two years in the United States during the World War, with six of his adherents receiving the same penalty, "for conspiring to violate the espionage law."

At the same time Rev. Ernest

Spaulding of Toronto, who was an official in the Canadian section of the organization, together with four others, were, according to the return, fined by Magistrate Denison in Toronto in March, 1918, for distributing a book "containing doctrines and passages derogatory to Great Britain and her cause in the present war."

FROM SASKATOON

Complaints against the broadcasting programmes of the International Bible Students' Association, began to flow into the Department of Marine and Fisheries as far back as July, 1918, when J. Macklem, radio inspector of Saskatoon, forwarded to the department the report that "they are only broadcasting religious propaganda—I know that if they should take more time to this religious stuff there would be a great complaint from the public in general."

"CROX was all over the dial," wrote Frank J. Vann, of Toronto, who characterized their "way of getting their ideas to the public" as a "rotten one."

"That station was the only one that persisted in broadcasting when 'another local was on the air,' said Mr. Vann.

From October, 1917, reports continued to roll in, accompanied by requests to the minister "to take means to combat the nuisance of interference." Toronto was the principal complainant, but every part of Ontario registered its objection. T. A. Allan, of Toronto, protested against the "puerile bunk they broadcast."

EDMONTON PROTEST

In November, 1917, Dr. T. Whitlaw, medical officer of health of Edmonton, complained against a programme in which the speaker stated he had been at the war and "the dirty doctors had inoculated fifty diseases into the bodies of the soldiers by the use of filthy, animal material for inoculations."

CUSTOMS STAFF CHANGES PLANNED

Ottawa, May 9.—A bill amending the Department of National Revenue Act was given first reading by the House yesterday.

Hon. W. D. Euler, Minister of National Revenue, said the changes were in accordance with recommendations made by the Royal Commission on Customs. Only 125 officers out of a total of 5,000 were affected. The measure provided that appraisers, preventive officers and special investigators might be nominated by the Minister to the Civil Service Commission, the commission to make the appointments within a specified time. Failing action on the part of the commission within the time specified, appointments might be made by the Governor-in-Council. The Minister himself, Mr. Euler continued, had no power to make appointments.

The bill also provided for the transfer of collectors and surveyors of customs, the Minister stated. The provisions would give the department an opportunity to put the best men in the best positions.

It was the intention to promote the best appraisers in the department to higher positions, assuming they were qualified for them, but he said he would not hesitate to go outside of the department, if it was necessary to do so in order to get the best man. Examinations would be conducted in the department.

VANCOUVER LIBERALS MEET
Vancouver, May 9.—Chris McRae M.P., was chief speaker at a meeting of the executive of the Vancouver City Liberal Association last evening. He reviewed the financial record of the Government and paid a tribute to the "skillful budgeting" which had eliminated deficits and raised British Columbia bonds to their present position on the market.

Ss. Princess Kathleen takes an excursion to Seattle Saturday, May 12, leaving at 9 a.m.

Your "Spare" needs expert attention too

Plenty of rubber, and the right kind of rubber in the right place—in Dominion Royal Cord Balloons. "For example all the cotton cord used is soaked with pure rubber latex. You cannot see all the rubber in a Dominion Royal Cord Balloon, but it is there, adding to the mileage of the tire.

WHAT'S the good of a "spare" if it won't take you home when you need it?

Just because it hasn't been on the road much is no guarantee that it is fit for work. The rain may have run inside and rusted the rim. The dust may have crept in. The tire may have picked up nail ends or flints when you used it last, and a few more miles will force them through the casing. It may not be inflated up to its correct running pressure.

When you drop in at your tire service station for the weekly inspection, let the tire expert examine the "spare" inside and out, and inflate it to its correct pressure. Then your "spare" will be ready for work when needed.

A few minutes attention may save you half an hour on the roadside.

HEALTH LECTURE TO-NIGHT

Safeguard your children's health

To permanently insure pure drinking water for your children, equip your home with Brass pipe.

Brass cannot rust. Water from Brass pipe flows clear and sparkling—free from the danger of rust contamination and discoloration. You can give it to your youngest children with the satisfying assurance that it is healthful and pure.

Yet Brass pipe is not expensive.

A $15,000 home can be equipped with Brass pipe for only $100 more than the first cost of the best corrodible pipe. It is an $100 investment that guarantees you freedom from rust-contaminated water and costly replacements at frequent intervals.

For safety, economy and life-long service, insist on Brass pipe.

VICTORIA SHOWS PACE FOR CANADA

Methods of Conducting League of Nations Society
Drive Wins Praise

R. S. Mabey is receiving congratulations as the most successful drive manager in the League of Nations Society's national campaign. Not only has Victoria gained first place but the method adopted for the local drive will be the model for next year's national drive. This information was conveyed to Mr. Mabey in a letter from C. P. Meredith, general secretary of the League of Nations Society, Ottawa.

"I note Mr. Fred McGregor was your 'hel' lower' in the drive," the letter reads. "Perhaps at your leisure either you or Mr. McGregor might let me know the general scheme on which you worked, as I wish to take advantage of the system followed so that it may be embodied in the pamphlet which will be issued to organizers next year."

In reference to Victoria's fine showing, Mr. Meredith has this to say: "Let me congratulate you on the wonderful success of your drive. I am inclined to think no other place in Canada will equal what you have done. The returns are coming in slowly, and are far from complete at the present time, nevertheless, I think it is perfectly safe in saying that Victoria has done better than any other place."

Although the actual drive is finished and canvassers have been sent home, members are enrolling daily, and it is obvious that a large number of intending members is still to be heard from. Many are waiting for canvassers to call upon them, but as the ladies and gentlemen who gave their time to this work have had to resume their ordinary routine, it is impossible for personal calls to be made. Mr. Mabey points out that Victoria has secured the foremost position in the national campaign and hopes the total will be swelled to the greatest possible extent in order that the victory may be complete and unchallengeable. All intending members are requested to mail applications with one dollar to Mr. Mabey, 1014 Broad Street, as soon as possible so that a final report may be submitted to headquarters.

STORY THE THING IN MOVIANA

It looks as if the original story was coming into its own in cinema circles again. Film producers are beginning to realize that theatre audiences want to see good stories as well as good acting on the silver sheet. And the best screen material often is unpublished.

Proof that writers outside of the industry are the large contributors these days in light of the programme. Of the twenty-three pictures filmed so far in this year's programme, all but three are from original stories. Seventeen of these stories were submitted by persons not connected with the industry. Quite a difference from the situation a few years ago. During that year, 1925, 5,000 original scripts were submitted to the Will Hays' office for approval. Only thirteen were accepted as suitable screen material. Of these thirteen, William wrote three and Charlie Chaplin one.

At last Mrs. Elmer is remembered for her near-flight across the Atlantic, has "crashed" moviana. She is to play an important role in "Glorifying the American Girl."

"Believe it or not, but I'm waiting for a street car."

This more or less famous sentence might have been Sidney Olcott's reply to Paris police when he was caught during a raid on an opium den. At least it would have had just as much effect as his excuse that he was studying the place to get atmosphere for his next picture. That excuse, though it was the absolute truth, according to a letter I just received from the director, who is now making pictures in London, earned him three days in a Paris jail.

Fred Niblo tells this one on Hollywood's famous "yes men"—men who will say yes to any remark made by a superior. Niblo happened to meet a former stage acquaintance now prospering in pictures and congratulated him upon his success.

"Yes, I'm a dollar-a-year man," replied the acquaintance.

Edna May, the pretty young blonde who came out here from Missouri with an "I'll show you" attitude, is doing just that. She's showing the movie village's executive that a girl from Missouri can't be kept down. Edna is now being starred in a series of two-reel comedies, which isn't so bad considering that she made her entrance into pictures only a few months ago.

They're actually paying for the privilege of doing work for the movies now. One motion picture company recently received a letter from a woman in Bakersfield, California, offering the company $500 if they would let her write the titles for a film. The offer was so unusual that the woman got the job—and the company the $500.

Charlie Chaplin reverted to his early screen days about a week ago. He worked as an extra in one scene of Norma Talmadge's new production, "A Woman Disputed."

"It happened to be watching them shoot the scene and all of a sudden there was Chaplin right in front of the camera—minus his usual makeup. And he was paid only $5 for doing it."

AN IDLE FLEET

For the first time in the history of the Alaska salmon cannery trade not a sailing vessel will be operated this year by packers in northern waters. In former years such famous ships as the Benjamin F. Packard, Guy C. Foss, A. J. Fuller, W. B. Flint, Star of Alaska and Catherine D. were outfitted each Spring on Puget Sound and with decks crowded with fishermen and cannery workers set sail for Alaskan harbors.

The windjammer fleet has been abandoned in favor of larger and faster steamships. The steamer at various Pacific Coast ports are filled with forests of masts as the old sailing ships await some cargo offering to start them off toward romantic places.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)

Winnipeg, May 9.—Wheat: The wheat market was extremely quiet today with practically nothing of feature going on. There was no outside business, and export was very slow, as it has been the past three days. The market was about half a cent higher at the opening and moved up to about one cent over the previous close with some short covering going on, due to the United States Government report coming out this afternoon, which will show the abandonment of winter wheat and the condition of the crop remaining for harvest. The early morning bulge, however, was not held and after the local trade had evaded, the market sank off its own weight, prices declining two cents from the early highs.

If the report shows a winter wheat crop of less than 450,000,000 bushels it will be construed as bullish, but anything above that figure is said, will have been discounted by the market. The market was again very dull, the demand being poor owing to the poor export business and the fact that shippers have their requirements well in hand for the time being.

There was no pressure from excess offerings and spreads were about unchanged. Weather in Western Canada continues very favorable, seeding is making excellent progress, with prospects that wheat will all be in the ground at the end of this week, with a record acreage in sight. There is ample moisture for the time being in all three provinces, but shows in another two weeks we will require rain. Canada still has a tremendous amount of old wheat to dispose of, and unless foreign demand broadens out very materially, our carry over will be heavy at the end of the crop year.

WHITNEY LETTER

New York, May 9.—(By Branson, Brown and Company Ltd.)—Whitney of the Wall Street Financial Bureau says today:

"Irrespective of the money rates today, I anticipate a continuation of the current advance with pronounced strength in the rail group, the end of the reactionary movement in the oils, extension of a host of moves, which for the past two or three weeks have been deferred but were resumed yesterday and the net result of all new high records in both averages again."

"New York Central should be through to new high today and shortly thereafter will reach 200, consequently purchase of the stock below its previous top of 189 is recommended."

"Reading is already through to new high for year but still well below last year's top. Buy nothing any place under 120."

"Wabash is the third candidate for new high record to-day. Don't sell any of it under 100 and keep at least for a possible 120."

"Stewart-Warner still has objective of approximately 110 and consequently should be held. There was undoubtedly more Canadian Pacific for sale between 223 and 225 than within any range which will be encountered in it until the stock approximates 250, consequently any additional buying should be done while the stock is available below 225."

"The deferred move in Sears is about to be resumed."

"On the Curb, American Solvents Preferred is at a new high for the year and still a purchase under 40."

UNFILED STEEL TONNAGE TO DROP

New York, May 9.—The seasonal let-up in operations and shipments of the steel industry is expected to bring about a decrease in unfilled orders of the U.S. Steel Corporation as of April 30, as compared with the close of the preceding month. A drop of between 250,000 and 300,000 tons is estimated, while in March there was a decline of 62,893 tons.

Building a Nation

Reliable Information is the basis of all sound investments.

IN her mineral areas British Columbia contains the greatest source of undeveloped wealth in the Dominion of Canada. Our production of gold, silver, lead and zinc has already placed this Province in the forefront of mineral producers, and as yet the surface has been scarcely scratched.

Recovery of the earth's hidden riches and their transformation to uses of commerce is an industry that takes second place to none, either in commercial importance or in dignity of purpose. The legitimate development of this industry offers to capital seeking investment, not only unusual speculative possibilities, but, as well, attractive dividend returns.

Proven mining properties comprise this basic industry of our Province and their remarkable response to development has enabled many far-sighted investors to reap rewards unparalleled in any other field of activity.

We maintain as complete information as is possible to obtain on British Columbia mines. Make use of our Statistical Department.

WINTERWHEAT LOSSES HEAVY

Chicago, May 9.—The Chicago Tribune to-day says "Winter killing has been unusually severe. Estimates on the winter wheat range from 455,000,000 to 486,000,000 bushels, with an average of 472,000,000 bushels. Last year's harvest was 552,000,000, and the five-year average is 549,000,000 bushels. Abandoned acreage is estimated at 12,000,000 to 13,000,000 acres or around twenty-six per cent. A condition of 75, with 35,000,000 acres would suggest 455,000,000. Condition is expected to be the lowest in years with estimates of 72.8 to 77, and an average of 75.4. In April it was 68.8. May last year was 85.6 and the ten-year average 85. Estimates on rye are for about 2,000,000 bushels against 58,572,000 bushels harvested last year. Dry reports from the American and Canadian Northwest are creating a good deal of comment and bringing in buying from that section. There has been a good buying of corn by local traders who have absorbed offerings and with belief in a good sized short interest the disposition is to buy on set backs.

INDUSTRIES LEADER REACHES VICTORIA

Arthur B. Purvis of Montreal, making a business trip across Canada, arrived in the city to-day. Mr. Purvis is president and managing director of Canadian Industries Limited, with which are allied six great companies. He is a resident of Montreal, and is a member of the board of directors of the Canadian Explosives Limited, Canadian Glass Limited, Canadian Portland Cement Limited, Dominion Cartridge Company Limited, Flint Paint and Varnish Limited and Arlington Company of Canada Limited.

Mr. Purvis's company is one of the larger advertisers of Canada, the advertisements of Canadian Industries Limited, and the other companies appearing in all the leading newspapers from coast to coast.

Mr. Purvis is very much impressed with the evident prosperity of the country, and is looking forward with confidence to the continued increase in the development of the business of the country as a whole and of his own company in particular.

Market Nearing Another Reaction, Bliss Predicts

By H. P. BLISS
New York, May 9.—Admitting that buying orders which apparently came into the market yesterday from all directions, at least offset, and in many cases more than offset realizing sales, we believe that the majority of stocks are at a point where profit-taking opportunities should not be ignored.

We also have the opinion that short covering had more than a little to do with some of the swift advances in the higher-priced industrial stocks. As a matter of fact it seems to us that the market is approaching a condition somewhat similar to that which prevailed in the early part of April. It may be remembered that from April 10 to 13 the industrial averages advanced about eight points, culminating in a violent upswing on April 13 which was accompanied by a huge volume of trading. It may also be remembered that after this demonstration, reaction occurred, which took approximately nine points from the average price of the industrials and which did not leave as serious an imprint on the minds of traders as it might have because of the upward swing in the oils and the utilities which occurred when the industrials began to sag.

It is to be noted that speculation has again swung back to the higher priced industrials, many of which were featured in the advances which temporarily climaxed about a month ago. It is quite possible, we believe, for the market to be again approaching reaction which even though it should be of short duration and temporary in nature when fundamental swings are considered, still might be sharp enough to cause some discomfort to traders.

Earnings Reports

New York, May 9.—Chrysler's earnings for the first quarter of 1928 totaled $1.37 per share, compared with $1.46 in the first quarter of 1927. The earnings would have been larger were it not for the fact that they were charged with the expense incurred in the development of the new DeSoto models, which are expected to be produced in the near future.

Jewel Tea is showing an increase. Moreover, plans have been made for the retirement of all of the preferred stock before the end of this year. There is a strong pool operating in Jewel Tea and it is expected that an attempt will be made to put the issue through par.

American Steel Foundry's earnings for the first quarter of 1928 equaled 96 cents per share, which compares with $1.25 in the first quarter of 1927.

Wrigley reported a net of $1.25 for the first quarter of 1928, unchanged from the first quarter of 1927. In the meantime the stock has advanced more than 40 per cent over the prices prevailing a year ago.

Electric Autolight had an excellent first quarter in 1928; the net was $4.50, as against $3.10 per share for the first quarter of 1927. This represents an increase of 45 per cent, while the price of the stock has more than doubled.

Peepert Texas—We would take advantage of recessions to accumulate "PT." Sulphur production is steadily increasing and earnings for the year ought to show a good gain. The stock is in a strong technical position, though its sponsors are not inclined to attempt any move under prevailing conditions, preferring to wait for bold operations until after the market in general has had a much needed correction.

WILSHIRE-OVERLAND MAKES NEW OUTPUT RECORD

Toledo, May 9.—John R. Wilshire at the annual meeting of Wilshire-Overland, indicated that second quarter earnings would be highly satisfactory. He says that the company produced 4,805 cars last week, a new high record.

ATLANTIC FLIGHT PLANS

Harbor Grace, Nfld., May 9.—A supply of gasoline is being assembled at the air field here for the projected flight from England to North America.
Captain Frank T. Courtney, Bristol aviator. Inquiries were received from officials of the Junkers Corporation in New York as to landing facilities here, presumably in connection with possible return flight across the Atlantic of the crew of the monoplane Bremen. They were notified the surface of the field was in excellent condition.

TORONTO MAN BUYS OUT ENO'S

The ownership of the firm of J. C. Eno Limited of London, England, makers of Eno's "Fruit Salt," changed hands last week.

All the preferred and ordinary shares were purchased by Harold F. Ritchie of Toronto and New York. The sale to Mr. Ritchie took place on the celebration of Mr. Eno's birthday. Mr. Eno was born in 1828. One hundred years later, the business changed hands. The firm is also celebrating their diamond jubilee this year, as this is their sixtieth year in business selling Eno's "Fruit Salt" in every civilized country in the world.

This is Mr. Ritchie's twenty-first year with the firm as sales representative, having started in Canada, and now handles "Fruit Salt" and many other lines of proprietaries in Canada and Newfoundland, United States, Mexico, Central America, South America, the West Indies, Australia, New Zealand, Hawaiian Islands, Philippine Islands, Pacific Islands and China, all through the Ritchie Sales Organization. There will not be any change in the management of J. C. Eno Ltd. The board of directors will remain and continue the progressive policy which has given this fine old company the greatest proprietary business in existence.

The sale was brought about for family reasons. After the death of Commander Harold W. Switbank, who was a son-in-law of Mr. Eno, and also one of the trustees and executors of Mr. Eno's will and estate.

Surely enough, in true British fashion, Mr. Ritchie was given every consideration, due to his long years of service to the company, and when the business was to be sold, he received notice and first chance.

Mr. Ritchie states that factories will be opened in several countries, first the United States and Australia.

The deal involved a very large sum—fact it is one of the largest transactions ever recorded in the proprietary field.

Mr. Ritchie sailed on the Aquitania on March 21 for England, and returned on the Mauretania April 27.

TIRE USERS TO BENEFIT

New York, May 9.—Harvey Firestone, president of Firestone Rubber Company, predicts that American and Canadian tire manufacturers will reduce prices at least fifteen per cent within the next three months as a result of the abolition of the British Stevenson Act.

C.N.R. EARNINGS SHOW INCREASE

Montreal, May 9.—Increases in gross and net earnings for the first quarter of the present year are shown in the summary of earnings and expenses issued by the Canadian National Railways. Coincident with these increases there is a decrease in the operating ratio.

For the month of March last the gross earnings of the National system amounted to $21,157,650, which compares with $20,367,106.43 for March, 1927, an increase of $790,543.56, equivalent to 4.39 per cent in favor of March of the current year. During the month the working expenses amounted to $16,472,877.66, while in March, 1927, these expenses totaled $15,981,200.38, an increase of $491,677.28 or 2.76 per cent for March last.

The net earnings in March, 1928, amounted to $4,784,772.84, while in March, 1927, the net amounted to $4,385,906.04, an increase in favor of the month of March past of $398,866.80, or 10.47 per cent.

The operating ratio in March last was 77.62 per cent, while in March, 1927, it was 78.85 per cent.

During the first three months of the current year the gross earnings of the National system amounted to $59,618,028.87, which compares with $56,718,911.06 during the similar period of 1927, an increase of $2,909,117.81, or 5.08 per cent.

The net earnings for the first three months of 1928 thus total $10,821,094.13, as against $9,275,718.84 in 1927, an increase of $1,545,375.29, or 27.17 per cent in favor of the first quarter of the current year. As a result, the operating ratio during the first quarter of 1928 has been reduced to 82.35 per cent from 84.95 per cent in the similar quarter of 1927.

Assistance For Soldier Settlers

Ottawa, May 9.—The bill amending Soldier Settlement Act was given second reading in the House of Commons yesterday. When the bill was under consideration in committee Hon. Robert Forke, Minister of Immigration, stated it was in accordance with the recommendation of the pensions committee of the House.

Progress was reported. C. G. Power, Liberal, Quebec South, who was chairman of the pensions committee, explained it was the purpose of the bill to relieve soldier settlers who had homesteaded and then taken land a second time, from any mortgage the Soldier Settlement Board might have attached to them for loans on their first homesteads.

PRAIRIE TRAFFIC TO CITY IS HEAVY

Statement of Winnipeg Passenger Agent Shows That Large Number Visited Here

Toronto, Ont., May 9.—The undoubted prosperity on the Canadian prairies was reflected in the very heavy passenger traffic this last winter from there to the coastal cities of Vancouver and Victoria was the statement made by C. E. McPherson, Winnipeg, assistant passenger manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who was in Toronto to-day on the last lap of a Dominion-wide tour.

Mr. McPherson, who was district passenger agent for the railway in Toronto in the late eighties and again in the nineties, stated that this winter the annual return exodus of prairie residents to Canada's Pacific Coast was fifteen per cent higher than any previous winter. Mr. McPherson also indicated that a record tourist movement this coming summer to the Canadian Rockies from all parts of Canada and the United States was clearly indicated by the extremely heavy advance bookings.

FERRY WAR IN SOUND STARTS

P.S.N. Company Registers First Hit in Three-cornered Fight

Seattle, May 9.—What appears to be the opening gun in the impending ferry war involving directly two existing lines and indirectly a proposed new one and probably a fourth, has been fired in Seattle.

The Puget Sound Navigation Company has obtained the appointment of a receiver in superior court for the Sound Ferry Line, Inc., in which the Puget Sound Navigation Company owns a half interest.

This action followed announcement recently that Capt. J. Howard Payne, president of the Sound Ferry Lines, has in association with San Francisco and Seattle capitalists, purchased a $300,000 ferry in the East.

FOR VICTORIA RUN

This is to be placed on the Edmonds-Victoria run in competition with both the Puget Sound Navigation Company and the Canadian Pacific Company.

At the request of the plaintiff, the Puget Sound Navigation Company, through its attorneys, visiting Judge W. A. Huncke of Spokane appointed E. J. Mathews as temporary receiver, but the receiver has not yet been named.

The Puget Sound Navigation Company, according to the order appointing the temporary receiver, owns half of the stock of the Sound Ferry Lines and seeks return of certain money alleged to have been improperly withdrawn.

PAYNE UNBOWED

Although the Puget Sound Navigation Company has registered the first blow in the maritime battle, Capt. J. Howard Payne's head remained unbowed beneath the bludgeoning.

"It is simply a fight to see who is going to run the Sound Ferry Lines and there is no question of solvency," he said. "Furthermore we hope to win the question out of court and negotiations are now being conducted for the purchase of the half interest owned by the Puget Sound Navigation Company. And we will purchase this interest whatever the outcome of the present situation may be rounded out in a few days."

Four hundred and twenty-five men, officers and sailors, make up the complement of the Durban. She is under the command of Captain George Lincoln-Cole.

The arrival of the Durban for a stay in local waters will mean the usual round of entertainment and the visit of a British man of war to Victoria. Plans for the entertainment of the men are now being made and these it is expected will be rounded out in a few days.

Co-operation Among Fishermen Essential For Trades Success

Ottawa, May 9.—Education and co-operation among fishermen, if the industry is to recover and thrive, is greatly stressed in the report of the Royal Commission on Fisheries, which investigated conditions in the Maritime Provinces and Quebec, tabled in the House of Commons yesterday by Hon. J. A. Gardin, Minister of Marine and Fisheries.

The commissioners point out there has been little or no co-operation among fishermen.

"The shore fishing industry has drifted along in a happy-go-lucky, as-you-will manner, and the individual shore fishermen has worked in his own way, often to his own disadvantage."

Fishermen have not been organized to compel attention. They should get more of the consumer's dollar, and for his dollar the consumer should get more fish," the report states. "If the shore fishing industry is to succeed, co-operation among fishermen is absolutely and immediately essential."

A recommendation is made that the establishment of co-operative organizations of fishermen be assisted by the department as soon as possible, and co-operative methods be appointed and paid by the Federal Government for the required period to initiate and complete this work.

The report points out that the fisheries are a basic industry and are reasonably entitled to assistance and encouragement.

To load nearly 2,000,000 feet of lumber for Japan, the Japanese freighter Shunsho Maru will arrive at the Rithet docks to-morrow from Nanaimo, B.C., where she put on the first of her cargo.

C. J. Barry, traveling passenger agent for the New York Central lines with headquarters at Seattle was a visitor in Victoria yesterday. He left for Vancouver to-morrow and will operate here in the fish trade in the South.

The Princess Mary will be released from the marine railway at Yarrow's Limited this evening or to-morrow morning after a thorough cleaning, painting and general overhauling. SEATTLE SHIPPING

Seattle, May 9.—Seattle's waterfront was the scene of a riot call yesterday when Italian sailors on the motorship Recca battled with the ship's officers in an attempt to desert the vessel and take their chances of remaining in the United States in violation of the federal Immigration Act. One arrest was made by police, who quieted the disturbance.

The Port Commission authorized the employment of John S. Metcalf and Company of Chicago yesterday to design the machinery for the contemplated new wheel elevator here.

Captain H. Le Feber of the Le Feber Packet Line of California yesterday announced he has purchased the motorship W. F. Burrows from Libby, McNeil & Libby and will operate her in the fish trade in the South.

TERRORS OF THE DEEP

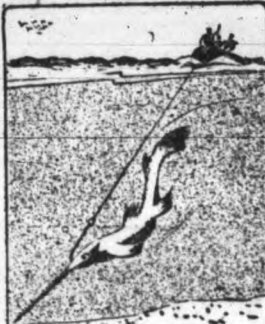

A shark gives a clean terrific bite which is swift death. Next door to the sharks in relationship are the sawfishes. In these huge brutes the upper jaw is continued in a long, jagged beak, set with dreadful teeth. The saw is used to gash open the soft under parts of a whale or a large fish and to feed on the product of the attack.

By NEA, Through Special Permission of the Publishers of The Book of Knowledge, Copyright, 1923-26.

The sawfish can cut a man in half with one sidelong sweep. We often see the implements of sawfish in museums and antiquarian shops.

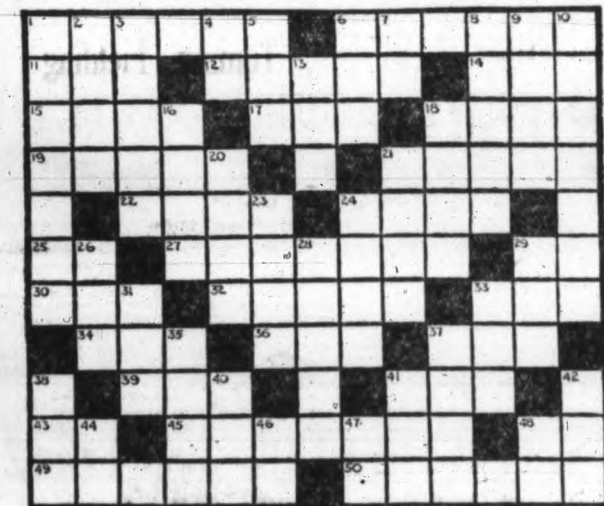

In 1923 in Panama Bay a sawfish dragged a fishing boat away after it had been caught on a 14-pound steel hook.

It approached the steam yacht owned by one of the party. The owner cast a rope from boat to vessel and this was attached to a capstan to prevent the great fish from escaping. The fish hauled at the rope, dragged the yacht from its anchor and towed it for three hours. Eventually it was conquered. It proved to be 29 feet long.

To-morrow's Horoscope

THURSDAY, MAY 10, 1928

Although adverse influences are discernible in the horoscope for today, according to astrology, benefic aspects dominate.

It is a day auspicious for associating with persons who are successful and should be favorable to promoters. This is a lucky rule for those who seek political preferment. The sway favors organization. There is a good sign governing big business or enterprises of broad scope. New fortunes will be made easily. While the prospects for the year are most encouraging for commercial expansion, to-day is not favorable for new ventures. Whatever is personal rather than general in ambition is not well directed while this configuration prevails. Egotists will fare badly under this direction of the stars, which encourages large conceptions of human relations.

The day should be profitable to all who are engaged in constructive work, and building is subject to the best influences. American engineers are to profit greatly, for they will be in world demand, the stars prophesy. The whole month is influenced greatly by Neptune, and for that reason son intrigue and subterfuge may be more than ordinarily prevalent. Growth of the spirit of democracy is foretold and it will affect many old institutions in Europe this year. Persons whose birthdate it is may expect success in their employment and domestic affairs. Children born on this day probably will prosper with little energy. Many lumber dealers are born under this sign. (Copyright, 1928)

UNDERWORLD STORY ON SCREEN AT THE COLISEUM THEATRE

When Mike Donlin, former outfield star with the New York Giants, received his share of the winner's cut of the 1908 world's series with the Philadelphia Athletics, it amounted to a little over $1,100. Now the players of the club that finishes in third place in a major league loop race get a bigger cut from the series than that.

Donlin learned a different type of high finance by playing the part of an underworld gangster in "Partners in Crime." Paramount's new Wallace Beery and Raymond Hatton melodramatic comedy, at the Coliseum Theatre to-day.

"I'll take baseball, even in the old days, over the real life gangster's job, though," Mike admits "I'd rather face baseball than police machine gun bullets."

SPLENDID CAST IN "THE WIZARD" AT COLUMBIA

"The Wizard," Fox Films screen version of Gaston Leroux's sensational stage play featuring Edmund Lowe, is nearing its end of its screening at the Columbia Theatre, where it has been showing to capacity audiences. Lella Hyams has the feminine lead opposite Lowe and a cast of screen favorites, including Gustave Von Seyffertitz and Barry Norton, are in the important roles.

Mystery, suspense and humor, as well as an absorbing romance, help make "The Wizard" an outstanding entertainment.

COLLEEN MOORE PLAYS LEADING ROLE IN "SO BIG"

Glady Brockwell, who plays the mother role in Colleen Moore's latest First National picture, "So Big," at the Playhouse Theatre, started her stage career when a child. It was while stranded, at the age of fourteen, with a repertoire company in El Paso, Texas, that a Lubin company, filming on location, passed through and gave her her first screen job. She has been in film work ever since, and claims to have played the first screen vampire role. This was in "The Man and His Mate" twelve years ago. She was born in Brooklyn.

"TRICK" SHOT IN MAKING OF FILM PRODUCES LAUGH

In one of the scenes in "The Cohens and Kellys," the Universal-Jewel at the Variety Theatre to-day, an unusually effective stratagem was resorted to get a "trick" shot.

In order to make scenes effective, the director always strives to put his audiences into the moods of the players. In this picture, Harry Pollard, the director, has made the spectator a part of the action of the picture.

George Sidney, one of the featured actors in the all-star cast, was instructed to rave and storm and stamp up and down the set in a fury. He was told to pay no attention to camera or camera lines.

The camera was mounted on a wheeled truck, and followed Sidney around from side to side and back and forth, always keeping the actor at the same distance from the camera. The impression created by the moving background is that the spectator, too, is stamping the room in anger.

RICHARD ARLEN OF "WINGS" FAME IS AT DOMINION

Having captured Richard Arlen after the romantic chase over the hot sands in "She's a Sheik," Bebe Daniels starring comedy for Paramount, Miss Daniels retains Arlen as her leading man in her latest picture, "Feel My Pulse," which is at the Dominion Theatre all this week.

Paramount answers the public demand of "We Want Arlen" that has been going up and down Broadway since the opening of "Wings," road show sensation of all time, in which Arlen has a featured role with Charles Rogers and Clara Bow. Arlen's performance in "Wings" has made him an overnight sensation.

The associate producer of Paramount pictures announced that Arlen would play the lead with Mary Brian in "Under the Tonto Rim," the next Zane Grey Western to be made at the Hollywood studio. This picture was made under the direction of John Waters before production of "Feel My Pulse" started.

The Bebe Daniels picture was directed by Gregory La Cava.

PICTURESQUE OLD SAILING SHIPS ON CAPITOL SCREEN

Even more gigantic than the charge of the clannishmen in "The Birth of a Nation" or the crush of the chariots in "The Ten Commandments" is declared to be the terrific battle between the glorious frigates "Constitution" and the pirates of old Tripoli in Paramount's "Old Ironsides," mighty patriotic and romantic sea spectacle now showing at the Capitol Theatre.

Directed by James Cruze, the man who brought to the screen "The Covered Wagon" and "The Pony Express," the scene was filmed with more than fifty ancient square-rigged sailing ships and an army of 4,000 extra players. Because of the tremendous amount of territory covered by the vessels and because it would have been impossible to make the human voice heard above the terrific roar of the hundreds of old-time cannon used in the encounter, the scenes were directed by radio from a base overlooking the entire field of battle.

Seventeen cameras, more than have ever before been used upon one single scene, were stationed at various positions and photographed the complete encounter from every angle. Among the featured players who took part in the battle are Esther Ralston, Wallace Beery, George Bancroft, Charles Farrell and Johnnie Walker.

ARION CLUB'S NEW FEATURES PLEASE POPULAR TASTE

Big Audience Acclaims Club Soloists and Humorous Solos

If popular enthusiasm may be taken as a criterion of success, then the innovations introduced by the Arion Club at its second concert of the season last night were undoubtedly successful, for an audience which almost filled the Royal Victoria Theatre was so enthusiastic that, like Oliver Twist, they clamored for more and yet more. The two innovations which met with such popular approval were, first, the confining of the programme to club talent only, and secondly, the introduction of humorous solos.

In the first innovation the club made a happy choice, and one which should meet with the approval of all who believe in the encouragement of whatever possible, of the excellent talent available in Victoria, in preference to the introduction of outside mediocrity, and it must be admitted that, perhaps on the old theory that "distant fields are greener," local musical organizations are prone to import some who are neither artists nor talented.

Last night's soloists were all chosen from the personnel of the club, and included Arthur Gore, whose very fine baritone voice has been heard all too seldom of late on the concert platform, and who sang "Even Bravest Hearts" from Gounod's "Faust," and as an encore, "Arise, Beloved" (Coleridge) by Thomas Kewey, who sang "Ocean and Sky" from Puccini's "La Gioconda," and as an encore, "Slumber Sweet Maid," both beautifully interpreted; George Phillips and J. V. Scriven in humorous solos, and a male quartette, including P. L. Tupman, W. Draper, J. W. Buckler and A. W. Palmer, who harmoniously rendered Geoffrey O'Hara's "A Little Closer Harmony," and as an encore an amusing number, "At Sweet Sixteen."

The introduction of humorous solos was the second innovation of the evening, and while the musical standard of the songs was not on the usual high level aimed at by the club in its choice of selections, the lighter touch added variety and certainly appealed to the popular taste. The first number of this kind was "He Went to a Party," one of George Grossmith's early successes, cleverly sung by George Phillips, and so popular with the audience that the singer followed it by another amusing number, "I Love Thee Sweet Maid." J. W. Scriven's song, "The First Cigar," written by Corney Grain the humorist, whose songs had so great a vogue twenty years ago, so pleased the audience that he had to respond with a musical monologue, "The Man With the Single Hair," which "brought down the house." Not a little of the success of these numbers was due to the clever accompaniments of Philip Hughes, who proved to be a real comedian of the piano.

The choral numbers were particularly well-chosen, including a number of old favorites given by special request, and seldom has the choir been in better voice. Herbert Kent, honorary conductor, and Frank J. Sehl, assistant conductor, both shared the baton, and to each the choir responded with a delicious shading of clearness of attack and a roundness of tone which revealed the excellent ensemble and individual work of this veteran segregation.

Among the outstanding numbers was Sullivan's "Lost Chord," the rise and swell of the voices in the crescendo resembling the full round tones of an organ. Frank Ait's beautiful number, "Evening," notable for its light and shade, and the fine baritone solo by Ivan Green; the "Pilgrim's Chorus" from "Tannhauser," another number in which the choir showed its nice sense of interpretation, and Beethoven's, "The Night," with beautifully sustained tone and shading, and to which they sang as an encore, "How Can I Bear to Leave Thee."

"Another old favorite" sung with much spirit and appropriate lightness of touch was "Funiculi Funicula" (Denza), while the final number, "King Olaf's Christmas" (Buck), with solos by P. L. Jones, tenor, and W. O. H. Firth, baritone, was a dramatic finale to an excellent programme. Practically every chorus on the programme had to be repeated or an encore given. Mrs. C. C. Wain at the piano and Philip H. Hughes at the organ lent sympathetic and artistic support to a programme which amply demonstrated that, after thirty-six years of catering to the musical tastes of the public the Arion Club has lost none of its old appeal.

During the evening, Mr. Sehl announced that the club will broadcast two numbers on Monday evening between 11 and 12 o'clock in connection with the Capitol Theatre organ recital.

KEEWATIN, ONT., IS SCENE OF FIRE

Keewatin, Ont., May 9.—Fire which swept a block in this town last night destroyed seven residences, a large ice house and two large barns, causing property loss estimated at between $30,000 and $40,000. Ten families were made homeless. Several other residences and smaller buildings suffered slight damage, while many other buildings were saved by the work of the Keewatin firemen, an army of volunteers and the Keewatin Fire Brigade, which made a record run of three and a half miles to Keewatin.

Why Firestone Tires Give You Most Miles Per Dollar

The greatest enemy to tire life is not the harsh grind of city streets or rough roads but heat which is created inside the tire by internal friction. Heat not only weakens the fabric, but also softens the rubber causing blowouts and tire failures.

The exclusive Firestone Gum-Dipping process prevents internal heat. Every fibre of every cord is insulated and impregnated with rubber, which prevents internal friction and at the same time binds the cords together by a stronger union of rubber, thus giving greater strength and flexibility to the tire.

Take advantage of the "Gum-Dipping" process to lower your tire costs this year. Your local Firestone Dealer not only supplies you with these better tires that cost no more, but also gives the better service that enables you to benefit from every extra mile built in at the factory.
